Dear Lubna,

This is in relation to the conversation we had about a possible guest session on Intellectual Property Rights exclusively for the faculty members of UPG as part of their faculty development program.

The faculty at UPG is multidisciplinary in nature, belonging to the fields of Media, Management and Information Technology.

Suggested title-

The Dawning of the Age of AI and its ramifications from the IPR perspective

The objective of this session is to offer a sound understanding of Intellectual Property Rights in general, process of copyrighting/patenting intellectual properties and its significance in the teaching field.

You may also touch upon how IPR and Artificial intelligence may come into the mix in the area of academics.

Tentative date of the session -20th of March, second half.

Looking forward to your response. Thanks.
